TO PLAINTIFF AND TO ITS ATTORNEYS OF RECORD:

2 PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on July 21, 2008, at 10:30 a.m. in Courtroom 13 of the 3 above entitled court located at 940 Front Street, San Diego, California, or as soon thereafter as 4 the matter may be heard, the defendants KELLY BROUGHTON, THE DEVELOPMENT 5 SERVICES DEPARTMENT OF THE CITY OF SAN DIEGO, AFSANEH AHMADI, and THE 6 CITY OF SAN DIEGO (collectively "City Defendants") will move this court to dismiss the 7 entirety of Plaintiff's Complaint for failure to state a cognizable claim for which relief may be 8 granted. More specifically, the City Defendants assert Plaintiff's Claims for: (1) Injunctive 9 Relief; (2) Declaratory Judgment; (3) Violation of 42 USC§1983 (Procedural Due Process); (4) 10 Violation of 42 USC§1983 (Equal Protection); (5) Dormant Commerce Clause; (6) Violation of 11 California Constitution Art. I §7(A) (Procedural Due Process); and (7) Violation of California
12 Constitution Art. I §7(A) (Equal Protection) are without legal merit, are not ripe, and fail to state 13 a claim for which relief may be granted by this Court. The City Defendants bring their motion 14 pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 12 (b)(6).

15 This motion will be based on this notice and motion, the City Defendants' memorandum 16 of points and authorities in support thereof, as well as the request for judicial notice, the 17 declaration of Afsaneh Ahmadi and attached exhibits, and such other matters of which the Court 18 may take judicial notice, the pleadings, records, and files herein, and any evidence or argument 19 presented at the hearing on this motion.

Respectfully submitted,

21 | Dated: June 23, 2008

I. INTRODUCTION

2 Defendants CITY OF SAN DIEGO (“City”), the City’s DEVELOPMENT SERVICES
3 DEPARTMENT (“DSD”), KELLY BROUGHTON (“Broughton”) and AFSANEH AHMADI
4 (“Ahmadi”) (collectively “City Defendants”) hereby move to dismiss the Complaint of Plaintiff
5 BLACKWATER LODGE AND TRAINING CENTER’S dba BLACKWATER WORLDWIDE
6 (“Blackwater”) pursuant to Rule 12(b)(6) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure (“FRCP”). The 7 City Defendants respectfully submit that Plaintiff’s Complaint warrants dismissal because it has 8 failed to set forth justiciable federal claims.

9 Specifically, Blackwater has failed to state a 42 U.S.C. § 1983 violation because its 10 Complaint does not state a claim based on violation of procedural due process, or of either the 11 Equal Protection or Dormant Commerce Clauses. Furthermore, without any federal basis for 12 jurisdiction, this Court should not exercise jurisdiction over the Blackwater's state law claims. In 13 addition, since this matter arises under a local land use determination, this Court should abstain 14 from exercising jurisdiction until the decision-making process has run its course and further gives 15 rise to a federal claim, if any. Furthermore, Plaintiff has asserted state law claims that 16 independently have not complied with applicable claims requirements and otherwise do not 17 constitute violations under the California Constitution.

II. PROCEDURAL HISTORY

19 On May 23, 2008, Blackwater filed its complaint against the City Defendants for (1) 20 Injunctive Relief; (2) Declaratory Judgment; (3) Violation of 42 USC§1983 (Procedural Due 21 Process); (4) Violation of 42 USC§1983 (Equal Protection); (5) Dormant Commerce Clause; (6)
22 Violation of California Constitution Art. I §7(A) (Procedural Due Process); and (7) Violation of 23 California Constitution Art. I §7(A) Equal Protection). (Doc. 1.)<sup>1</sup> On May 27, 2008, Blackwater 24 applied ex parte for a temporary restraining order (“TRO”) contending Blackwater would suffer
25 irreparable harm if it was not able to begin use of a warehouse located at 7685 Siempre Viva
26 Road (the “Building”) in the City’s planned Otay Mesa Development District (“OMDD”) to train

27        All citations to the pleadings filed thus far in this case refer to the numerical ordering in the 28 Court's docket. The Court is respectfully requested to take judicial notice of its own files and records in this matter.

1 U.S. Navy personnel in "Security Reaction Forces" training. (Doc. 1:¶¶ 1, 23-24.) Blackwater's
 2 TRO application was granted on June 4, 2008.

3 On June 17, 2008, this Court granted a Preliminary Injunction enjoining the City from 4 refusing to perform the ministerial task of issuing certificates of occupancy to Blackwater for 5 those portions of the Building the City had processed and approved building permits. (Docs. 32, 6 33.) The City was further directed to promptly process any other pending permits for the 7 Building. (Doc. 32, 17:9-12; Transcript of Proceedings, Doc. 35, 103:1-10.) On June 18, 2008, 8 the City appealed the Court's order granting the Preliminary Injunction to the Ninth Circuit. (Doc.
 9 34). The City Defendants herein file their joint Motion to Dismiss Plaintiff's Complaint for 10 failure to state any cognizable claim upon which relief may be granted.

11 III. BLACKWATER'S CLAIMS

12 Blackwater alleges that earlier this year it secured the right to use the Building located in 13 the City's OMDD to train Navy sailors. (Complaint, Doc. 1, 2:1-15.) Blackwater claims it then 14 applied, individually, for building permits to add internal walls, add air conditioning units and to 15 add an insulated firing range. (Doc. 1, ¶1, 2:17-20.) Blackwater further alleges that it was harmed 16 when Broughton, the City's DSD Director, informed Blackwater that further land use review for 17 the Building would be required because the Building had only been used previously as a 18 warehouse, much of which remained identified for warehouse use, and no appropriate 19 discretionary review of the change of use of the Building to a military training center had been yet 20 completed, notwithstanding the City's processing of the previously-mentioned building permits.
 21 (TRO Application, Doc. 4, 11:6-13.)

22 Blackwater claims the City took this action, not as a result of the City's legitimate police 23 power and regulatory land use authority under the OMDD, but because "self-proclaimed 24 activists" complained loudly that the Blackwater operation was nothing more than "mercenaries" 25 intent upon conducting covert border operation in close proximity to the Mexican border.
 26 Blackwater conjectured that because this is an election year, the City's Mayor and City Attorney 27 prompted the Broughton to take this action to "curry favor" with the activists in an attempt to get 28 re-elected. (Doc. 1, 3:11-21).

1 Blackwater's pleadings admit that its "professionals" are "military and law enforcement 2 veterans dedicated to training military law-enforcement personnel" in the U.S. and to "protecting 3 U.S. dignitaries abroad." (Doc. 1, ¶19, 6:25-27.) Another admitted key function of Blackwater is 4 to protect U.S. diplomats in Iraq. (Doc. 1, ¶19, 6:27-28.) A far lesser known function is that 5 Blackwater provides training for the U.S. Navy. (Doc. 1, ¶20, 7:8-9.) Blackwater claims it should 6 not be required to obtain an Otay Mesa Development Permit for use of the Building as a military 7 training facility because "vocational schools" are a permitted use within the OMDD and it is 8 merely operating a "vocational school." (Doc. 1, ¶25, 8:13-17; ¶¶35-37, 11:5-12:6).

9 Blackwater further contends that it has a clear and present right to occupy the Building.
 10 Blackwater's First Claim for Relief, therefore, seeks injunctive relief to obtain Certificates of 11 Occupancy for the Building and an order enjoining the City and its officials from refusing to issue
 12 them for any reason, including additional discretionary reviews. (Doc. 1, 18:12-28.) Blackwater's 13 Second Claim for Relief seeks a declaration that any withholding of the Certificates of 14 Occupancy are unlawful. (Doc. 1, 19:12-15). Blackwater's Third and Fourth Claims for Relief 15 for violation of its federally protected Due Process and Equal Protection rights seeks the 16 appropriate declaratory and injunctive relief against the City Defendants, as well as damages, the 17 cost of suit, and statutory interest. (Doc. 1, 20:25-28; 22:9-12). Blackwater's Fifth Claim for 18 Relief seeks declaratory and injunctive relief for violation of the Dormant Commerce Clause 19 because Blackwater contends the City Defendants have imposed regulatory measures on 20 Blackwater in a manner designated to benefit in-state economic interests by burdening it as an 21 out-of-state competitor that are not imposed on local entities. (Doc. 1, 23: 25-28.) Finally, 22 Blackwater's Sixth and Seventh Claims for relief claims the City Defendants, acting under color 23 of state law, seek to deprive Blackwater of procedural due process and equal protection under 24 Article I, §7(a) of the California Constitution. (Doc. 1, 23:25-28; 26:23-28.)

25 Blackwater contends this Court also has diversity jurisdiction because Blackwater is a 26 Delaware corporation with its principal place of business in North Carolina. (Doc. 1, 5:17-18). It 27 claims this court has subject matter jurisdiction under 28 USC §§ 1331 and 1343. (Doc. 1, 5:13-28 14.) It further asserts that this court should assert supplemental jurisdiction over the state law

1 claims because the state law claims are “so related” to the federal claims that they form the 2 same case and controversy under Article III of the United States Constitution. (Doc.1, 5:21-25.)
 3 The City Defendants respectfully disagree and, for the reasons below, respectfully moves this 4 Court to dismiss Blackwater’s Complaint.

5 IV. LEGAL ARGUMENT

6 A. DEFENDANTS’ RULE 12 (b)(6) MOTION IS PROPER TO TEST THE LEGAL 7 SUFFICIENCY OF CLAIMS SET FORTH IN BLACKWATER’S COMPLAINT

8 A FRCP Rule 12(b)(6) motion tests the legal sufficiency of the claims asserted in a 9 complaint filed in federal court. Dismissal under Rule 12(b)(6) is proper where there is either a 10 “lack of a cognizable legal theory” or “the absence of sufficient facts alleged under a cognizable 11 legal theory.” Balistreri v. Pacifica Police Dept., 901 F.2d. 696, 699 (9th Cir. 1990). The issue 12 on a motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim is not whether the claimant will ultimately 13 prevail but whether the claimant is entitled to offer evidence to support the claims asserted.
 14 Gilligan v. Jamco Development Corp., 108 F.3d 246, 249 (9th Cir. 1997).

15 When evaluating a Rule 12(b)(6) motion, it is well settled that this Court must accept all 16 material allegations in the complaint as true and construe them in the light most favorable to the 17 non-moving party. Barron v. Reich, 13 F.3d 1370, 1374 (9th Cir. 1994). The court is not 18 required, however, to accept “conclusory legal allegations cast in the form of factual allegations if 19 those conclusions cannot reasonably be drawn from the facts alleged.” Clegg v. Cult Awareness 20 Network, 18 F.3d 752, 754-55 (9th Cir. 1994.) Dismissal of a claim is always proper where the 21 federal claim is “immaterial and made solely for the purpose of obtaining federal jurisdiction” or 22 where the “claim is wholly insubstantial and frivolous.” Steel Co. v. Citizens for a Better 23 Environment, 523 US 83, 89 (1998); Roberts v. Corrothers, 812 F2d 1173, 1177 (9th Cir. 1987).

24 For the reasons outlined below, the City Defendants respectfully assert that Blackwater 25 chose not to avail itself of State and local law, preferring instead to seek federal jurisdiction on 26 questionable grounds as a means of gaining a decided advantage in an effort to obtain a more 27 favorable result. To this end, Blackwater’s approach has already resulted in a premature

28

1 adjudication granting injunctive relief, when its Complaint, and every claim for relief set forth
 2 therein, was not ripe for this Court's consideration.

3       B. THE COURT MAY CONSIDER MATTERS OUTSIDE THE PLEADINGS IN 4       THIS CASE WHEN RULING ON DEFENDANTS' RULE 12(b)(6) MOTION

5           While a district court must normally ignore those matters that lie outside the pleadings, it 6 may consider documents physically attached to the complaint, or documents of undisputed 7 authenticity that are alleged or referenced within the complaint. Parrino v. FHP, Inc., 146 F.3d 8 699, 706 (9th Cir. 1998). A document is not considered "outside the pleadings" for purposes of 9 Rule 12(b) "if the complaint specifically refers to the document and if its authenticity is not 10 questioned." Branch v. Tunnell, 14 F.3d 449, 453 (9th Cir. 1994). When a plaintiff fails to 11 introduce a pertinent document as part of his pleading, the defendant may introduce the exhibit as 12 part of his motion attacking the pleadings. Documents whose contents are alleged in a complaint 13 and whose authenticity no party questions, but which are not physically attached to the pleadings, 14 may be considered in ruling on a Rule 12(b) motion to dismiss. Id. at 453-54. Furthermore, 15 when the Court's jurisdiction is at issue, this Court may consider extrinsic evidence when ruling 16 on a motion to dismiss. Corrie v. Caterpillar, Inc., 503 F.3d 974, 982 (9th Cir. 2007).

17           Thus, when ruling on the City Defendants' motion to dismiss this Court may consider the 18 full texts of documents the complaint references only in part. Fecht v. The Price Co., 70 F.3d 19 1078, 1080 n.1. (9th Cir. 1995); cert. denied, 517 U.S. 1136 (1996); In re Stac Electronics Sec
 20 Litig., 89 F.3d 1399, 1405 n.4 (9th Cir. 1996). The Court may also take judicial notice of public 21 records outside the pleadings, as well as of records and reports of administrative bodies. FRE 22 201(b); MGIC Indem Corp. v. Weisman, 80 F.2d 500, 504 (9th Cir. 1986). Therefore, in this 23 case, it is proper for the Court to consider all documents referenced in Blackwater's complaint, as 24 well as all documentary evidence submitted in support of its request for injunctive relief.

25       C. BLACKWATER'S CLAIMS ARE NOT RIPE FOR REVIEW

26           Article III of the U.S. Constitution further limits the jurisdiction of federal courts to actual 27 cases or controversies. U.S. Const., art. III, §2. Therefore, as a threshold issue, the Court must 28 first consider whether Plaintiff's claims are ripe for judicial consideration. Lujan v. Defenders of

1     Wildlife, 504 U.S. 555, 559-60 (1992). Ripeness is a doctrine of justiciability that dictates when 2 review is appropriate. A claim that is not yet “ripe” is not justiciable and thus may be dismissed
 3 without prejudice under FRCP Rule 12(b)(1) for lack of federal question jurisdiction. Association
 4 of American Med. Colleges v. United States, 217 F.3d 770, 784, n.9 (9th Cir. 2000).

5           When evaluating whether a claim is “ripe” the Court must consider (1) whether the issues 6 are yet fit for judicial decision and (2) the hardship to the parties of withholding court
 7 consideration. Abbott Labs. v. Gardner, 387 U.S. 136, 149 (1967), abrogated on other grounds, 8 Califano v. Sanders, 430 U.S. 99 (1977). Also see, Nat'l Rifle Ass'n v. Magaw, 132 F.3d 272, 9 284 (6th Cir.1997). Stated differently, review of a government agency’s action, such as in this 10 matter, is only ripe for review if the issues presented are purely legal and final agency action has 11 been achieved. Anchorage v. United States, 980 F.2d 1320, 1323 (9th Cir.1992).

12           The core question is whether the agency has completed its decision-making process, and 13 whether the result of that process will affirmatively affect the parties, rather than prospectively or 14 possibly affect them in the future. Franklin v. Massachusetts, 505 U.S. 788, 797 (1992). The 15 Court must consider whether: 1) the administrative action is a definitive statement of an agency’s 16 position; 2) the action has a direct and immediate effect on the complaining parties; 3) the action 17 has the status of law; and 4) the action requires immediate compliance with its terms. See, Mt.
 18 Adams Veneer Co. v. United States, 896 F.2d 339, 343 (9th Cir. 1989). Also see, Anchorage, 19 supra, 980 F.2d at 1323.

20           In this case, therefore, before Plaintiff’s claims can be said to be “ripe” or justiciable, the 21 City must first be given the opportunity to “arrive[ ] at a final, definitive position regarding how it 22 will apply the regulations at issue to the particular land in question.” Williamson County v.
 23 Hamilton Bank, 473 U.S. 172, 191 (1985). As a threshold matter, the Court must determine 24 “whether the factual record is sufficiently developed to produce a fair adjudication of the merits 25 of the parties’ respective claims.” Magaw, supra, 132 F.3d at 284. In the absence of a factual 26 record to demonstrate final agency action, the Court is without the power to yet adjudicate the 27 matter.

28           ///

1        In short, any judicial determination in this case would be premature until such time as the 2 City has completed its regulatory land use zoning review of the appropriateness of the Building as 3 a military training facility, rather than simply an industrial warehouse.

4        D. EVEN IF BLACKWATER'S CLAIMS WERE JUSTICIALE, THIS COURT
SHOULD ABSTAIN FROM ENTERTAINING ITS CLAIMS

5        There are two theories of abstention, both of which are applicable in this case. "Pullman 6 Abstention," premised upon the Supreme Court case of Railroad Commission of Texas v.
Pullman Co., 312 U.S. 496 (1941), and "Younger Abstention," premised upon the Supreme Court
 8 case of Younger v. Harris, 401 U.S. 37 (1971).<sup>2</sup>

9        1. Pullman Abstention Doctrine

10        In the Pullman case, the Supreme Court held that abstention by a federal court may be 11 proper in order to avoid unnecessary friction in federal-state relations, interference with important 12 state functions, tentative decisions on questions of state law, and premature constitutional 13 adjudication. Pullman, supra, 312 U.S. at 498. More recently, this circuit in Pearl Investment 14 Company v. City and County of San Francisco, 774 F.2d 1460 (9th Cir. 1985), elaborated on 15 certain considerations for abstention.

16        In the Pearl Investment case, plaintiff brought an action under 42 U.S.C. §1983 alleging 17 violation of its Fifth and Fourteenth Amendment rights based upon the city's planning 18 commission's actions on a building application that the plaintiff contended imposed certain 19 restrictive conditions on the project. Before filing an action in federal court, plaintiff had 20 unsuccessfully petitioned in state court for a writ of mandate to compel the City to automatically

21        <sup>2</sup> It bears worth recalling that at the conclusion of the hearing on Blackwater's ex parte
 22 application for a TRO, the City requested that a hearing be scheduled on a 12(b)(6) motion to dismiss
 23 based on abstention grounds. (5/30/08 Transcript, Doc. 15, p. 49: 11-13). The Court declined this request 24 and reminded the parties that such a motion would have to be scheduled in compliance with the local 28-25 day hearing scheduling requirements. (Doc. 15, p. 50: 22-23). At the preliminary injunction hearing, the 26 Court inquired whether the City would be making any arguments regarding abstention at that hearing.
 27 (6/17/08 Transcript, Doc. 35, p. 39: 25 to p. 40: 1). The City Attorney advised that the City would defer 28 making an abstention argument. (Doc. 35, p. 40: 8-9). Consistent with this Court's scheduling directive pronounced at the TRO and preliminary injunction hearings, the City Defendants now more fully assert the legal grounds to request that this Court abstain from the further exercise of jurisdiction in this case in accordance with the Younger and/or Pullman abstention doctrines.

1 approve its building application. The district court stayed the federal action pending state court
 2 adjudication of the state law issues. On appeal, the Ninth Circuit affirmed the district court's 3 decision to abstain, applying the so-called "three-part Pullman abstention test," which considers 4 whether (1) the complaint "touches a sensitive area of social policy" upon which the courts ought 5 not to enter unless no alternative to its adjudication is open; (2) such constitutional adjudication 6 plainly can be avoided if a definitive ruling on the state issue would terminate the controversy;
 7 and (3) the determinative issue of state law is doubtful. Id. at 1463. These three factors likewise 8 are present in this case and should cause this Court to abstain from exercising further jurisdiction.

9       First, two of Blackwater's claims are based directly on novel theories alleging violation of 10 the California Constitution which involves extremely sensitive issues of state policy. Whether 11 a permit applicant can directly sue for violation of the California Constitution is purely a matter 12 of state law which touches upon sensitive issues of state policy. A particularly good case for 13 "Pullman Abstention" exists when there is no reason to assume that the California Supreme Court 14 will construe the California Constitution in the same way that federal courts construe the United 15 States Constitution. Smelt v. County of Orange, 447 F.3d 673, 681-682 (9th Cir. 2006) (citing, 16 Columbia Basin Apartment Ass'n v. City of Pasco, 268 F.3d 791, 806 (9th Cir. 2001)).

17       All of Blackwater's claims—federal and state—stem from a dispute whether Blackwater's 18 use of the Building for military training operations, including simulated terrorism attacks and 19 defensive responses, is authorized by the OMDD Ordinance. As recognized in the Pearl 20 Investment case, land-use planning questions "touch a sensitive area of social policy" into which 21 federal courts should not lightly intrude. Pearl Investment, supra, 774 F.2d at 1463. Also see,
 22 Sinclair Oil Corp. v. County of Santa Barbara, 96 F.3d 401, 409 (9th Cir. 1996). Blackwater's 23 proposed use of conducting simulated military anti-terrorism operations in an area zoned for 24 industrial uses is precisely the delicate land-use planning question that this Court should not 25 lightly intrude.

26       Second, state law issues raised by Blackwater's applications for permits may determine or 27 narrow the federal constitutional questions found in its complaint. If the City were to abuse its 28 discretion in acting on the permit applications, Blackwater could take advantage of the California

1 administrative mandamus procedure found at California Civil Code § 1094.5. In the Pearl
 2 Investment case, the Ninth Circuit concluded that the state law issues in that case might determine 3 or narrow the federal questions of whether plaintiff's rights to due process and equal protection 4 had been denied. Pearl Investment, supra, 774 F.2d at 1464. The Pearl Investment Court also 5 found that the administrative mandamus procedure satisfied the second criterion for Pullman
 6 abstention. Id. (citing, C-Y Development Co v. City of Redlands, 703 F.2d 375, 379 (9th Cir.
 7 1983)). After Blackwater exhausts the City's administrative permitting process, it too can take 8 advantage of the administrative mandamus procedure if it believes that the City erred in its review 9 of the permit applications.

10 Third, the Pearl Investment Court recognized that resolution of an issue of state law may 11 be uncertain because a statute is ambiguous or because the question is novel and of sufficient 12 importance that it ought to be addressed first by a state court. Id. at 1465. An issue of first 13 impression presented by Blackwater's permit applications is whether the training of military 14 personnel to respond to simulated terrorist attacks is an authorized land use that falls within the 15 definition of "vocational training" in accordance with the OMDD Ordinance. The ultimate 16 objective of the City's land use laws is the protection of the public health, safety and welfare.
 17 See, San Diego Municipal Code Section ("SDMC §") 111.0102. The City should be given an 18 opportunity to make a final decision on this issue based on the totality of circumstances and, if 19 appropriate, set conditions on Blackwater's permits in order to protect the health and safety of its 20 citizens. As the Pearl Investment Court stated: "[w]hether a city has abused its discretion by 21 refusing to issue a building permit is by nature a question turning on the peculiar facts of each 22 case in light of the many local and statewide land use laws and regulations applicable to the area
 23 in question. We do not claim the ability to predict whether a state court would decide that the city 24 abused its discretion." Id.

25 Because all three criteria for abstaining on Pullman abstention grounds are present, this 26 Court should abstain from exercising further jurisdiction in this case. Alternatively, this Court 27 should stay proceedings while the City further reviews Blackwater's permit applications and 28 Blackwater is afforded the opportunity to file a petition for a writ of mandate in state court.

1           2.       Younger Abstention Doctrine

2           The Younger Court held that the doctrine of abstention requires that a federal court not 3 interfere with an ongoing state judicial proceeding that implicates important state interests where 4 there is an adequate opportunity to raise federal claims in the state proceeding. Younger, supra, 5 401 U.S. at 55. Abstention by a district court is required under Younger when three criteria are 6 satisfied: (1) state judicial proceedings are ongoing; (2) the proceedings implicate important state 7 interests; and (3) the state proceedings provide an adequate opportunity to raise federal 8 questions.” Kay v. City of Rancho Palos Verdes, 504 F.3d 803, 808 (9th Cir. 2007); Commc'n's
 9 Telesys. Int'l v. Cal. Pub. Util. Comm'n, 196 F.3d 1011, 1015 (9th Cir. 1999).

10         When Younger is applicable, dismissal of the action is required. Although the Younger 11 case involved a state criminal case, its policies are fully applicable to civil proceedings when 12 important state interests are involved. Equity Lifestyle Properties, Inc. v. County of San Luis 13 Obispo, 505 F.3d 860, 873 n.20 (9th Cir. 2007). The goal of Younger abstention is to “avoid 14 interference with uniquely state interests.” AmerisourceBergen Corporation v. Roden, 495 F.3d 15 1143, 1150 (9th Cir. 2007). Additionally, the policies behind the Younger abstention doctrine
 16 must be implicated by the relief requested of the federal court. AmerisourceBergen, supra, 495 17 F.3d at 1149. Thus, a federal court should abstain if the court’s action would enjoin or have the 18 practical effect of enjoining ongoing state proceedings, which include pending administrative 19 proceedings. Id. (citing, Gilbertson v. Albright, 381 F.3d 965, 978 (9th Cir. 2004) (en banc)); 20 Baffert v. California Horse Racing Bd., 332 F.3d 613, 618 (9th Cir. 2003).

21         This Court preliminary enjoined the City from: (1) refusing to allow Blackwater to occupy 22 and use the Otay Mesa facility consistent with the building permits the City already granted and 23 (2) revoking Blackwater’s certificates of occupancy and/or subjecting Blackwater’s ministerial 24 permit applications to additional “discretionary” review, absent further order of the Court. This 25 Court also ordered the City to promptly and properly process any currently pending ministerial 26 permits for the Otay Mesa property. (Doc. 32, p. 17).

27         Blackwater’s application for a permit to use a simulator at the Otay Mesa facility for 28 amusement purposes was filed on May 28, 2008, which was after Blackwater filed the instant

1 lawsuit and sought injunctive relief. (Docs. 1, 4.) Although the simulator application was not the 2 subject of the Blackwater's TRO and preliminary injunction applications, the Defendants have 3 nevertheless promptly and properly processed Blackwater's initial permit application for its 4 simulator. City staff who reviewed the simulator permit application recently asked Blackwater to 5 respond to staff comments before any decision is made to issue the permit. See, Declaration of 6 Afsaneh Ahmadi Declaration in support of Defendants' Joint Motion to Dismiss, ¶¶4-7, filed and 7 served concurrently herewith. It is these ongoing administrative proceedings, including the 8 prospect that Blackwater may apply for even more permits associated with its Otay Mesa facility, 9 that support Younger abstention in this case.

10 This Court recognized that a permit remained pending at the time of her order, and 11 notwithstanding directed the City not to undertake "any additional discretionary review, absent 12 further order of the Court." (Doc. 33, 2:11-12.) Such ongoing administrative proceedings, as 13 well as the prospect that Blackwater may apply for even more permits associated with its Otay
 14 Mesa facility, fully support Younger abstention in this case. Such proceedings implicate 15 important state or local interests because they implicate the interest of the City in ensuring that its 16 land use laws are consistently and fairly applied.

17 The importance of the interest is to be measured in considering its significance broadly, 18 rather than by focusing on the City's interest in the resolution of a particular case. Baffert, supra, 19 332 F.3d at 618 (citing, New Orleans Pub. Serv., Inc. v. Council of City of New Orleans, 491 U.S.
 20 350, 365 (1989). Indeed, this Court acknowledged at the show cause hearing, "that traditionally 21 land use issues are deferred to the local governments or state governments for land use planning."
 22 (Doc. 35, 7: 22-24.) Also see, Rodrigues v. County of Hawaii, 823 F.Supp. 798, 801 (D. Haw.
 23 1993) (county's action in denying building permit application and enforcing setback requirements 24 implicate important state interests requiring Younger abstention in a §1983 action).

25 The City's administrative review process adequately affords Blackwater an opportunity to 26 raise federal questions because after the process is administratively exhausted, a project applicant 27 is afforded the opportunity to raise federal questions in State Court by way of the administrative 28 mandamus procedure if a City official improperly denies an permit application. The further

1 exercise of jurisdiction by this Court would have the practical effect of enjoining the City's 2 administrative proceedings from going forward with meaningful discretionary review.

3 For all of these reasons, the requirements for Younger abstention have been met in this 4 case. There is no support for the legal theory advocated by Blackwater that because Blackwater 5 is allegedly controversial or unpopular among certain segments of the community, its permit 6 applications should not be subject to the same level of scrutiny as any other project applicants.
 7 This Court should abstain from this case in recognition of the fact that Blackwater, like any other 8 project applicant, is not above the City's land use laws, and like its neighbors, its project is 9 subject to meaningful review for compliance with the law. Basic principles of comity lead to the 10 conclusion that Blackwater should at least exhaust the City's administrative permitting process 11 before bringing a suit for the alleged violation of its state and federal constitutional rights.

12 E. PLAINTIFF'S FIRST AND SECOND CLAIMS FOR RELIEF AGAINST THE
CITY DEFENDANTS MUST BE DISMISSED FOR FAILURE TO STATE A
CLAIM FOR WHICH RELIEF MAY BE GRANTED

14 Plaintiff's First Claim for Relief seeking injunctive relief to obtain Certificates of 15 Occupancy for the Building and enjoining the City and its officials from refusing to issue them 16 for any reason (Doc. 1, 18:12-28), and its Second Claim for Declaratory (Doc. 1, 19:12-15) are 17 premature at best. It is well settled that "injunctive and declaratory judgment remedies are 18 discretionary and courts traditionally have been reluctant to apply them to administrative 19 determinations unless these arise in the context of a controversy 'ripe' for judicial resolution."
 20 Abbott Laboratories v. Gardner, supra, 387 U.S. at 148. Again, the basic purpose of the ripeness 21 doctrine "is to prevent the courts, through avoidance of premature adjudication, from entangling 22 themselves in abstract disagreements over administrative policies, and also to protect the agencies 23 from judicial interference until an administrative decision has been formalized and its effects felt 24 in a concrete way by the challenging parties." Id. at 148-49.

25 Thus, in evaluating ripeness, courts assess "both the fitness of the issues for judicial 26 decision and the hardship to the parties of withholding court consideration." Id. at 149; 27 Association of American Med. Colleges, supra, 217 F.3d at 780. Accordingly, even if federal 28 question jurisdiction may be established by pleading a substantial federal constitutional or

1 statutory claim, or for declaratory relief, Plaintiff's claims must still be ripe for review before this 2 Court should exercise jurisdiction. Assoc. of Am. Medical Colleges, supra, 217 F.3d at 784.

3 As discussed above, under Younger abstention, federal courts may not grant declaratory or 4 injunctive relief that would interfere with state civil proceedings, including state administrative 5 proceedings that are judicial in nature. Delta Dental Plan v. Mendoza, 139 F.3d 1289, 1293-94
 6 (9th Cir. 1998). Absent extraordinary circumstances, Younger abstention is required if the state 7 proceedings are (1) ongoing, (2) implicate important state interests, and (3) provide the plaintiff
 8 an adequate opportunity to litigate federal claims. Hirsh v. Justices of the Supreme Court, 67 F.
 9 3d. 708, 712 (9th Cir. 1995). Unlike Pullman abstention, Younger abstention requires dismissal of 10 the federal claim for injunctive relief. Delta Dental Plan, supra, 139 F. 3d 1289, 1293-94.

11       1.     The City Land Use Approvals Have Not Yet Been Completed.

12       On May 19, 2008, Broughton, as the City's DSD Director, exercised his discretion under 13 SDMC §§ 111.0205, 131.0110(a) and 1517.0301(c)(2) to require Blackwater's use of the 14 Building as a military training center to undergo further land use review, stating the following:
 15 "As the majority of the structure is still identified for warehouse uses, no other uses are permitted 16 until a submission for a request of change in occupancy has been made and approved by the 17 Development Services Department." (Doc. 4-2, pp. 45-50.) It is without dispute that it is within 18 the City's municipal authority to require additional discretionary approvals before a project may 19 proceed. See, SDMC §§ 112.0103, 131.0620(e), 129.0111(d), 131.0110(a), 131.0110(c), 20 129.0104(a)(10) and 1517.0301(c)(2), 128.0201, 128.0202(c), 128.0207 and 111.0205.

21       Particularly noteworthy is SDMC § 112.0103, which provides in pertinent part:

22       When an applicant applies for more than one permit ... or other approval 23 for a single development, the applications shall be consolidated for processing and shall be reviewed by a single decision maker. The 24 decision maker shall act on the consolidated application at the highest level of authority for that development as set forth in Section 111.0105.
 25 (Italics in original)(bold emphasis added).<sup>3</sup>

26

27       3     SDMC §111.0105 provides that "[f]or purposes of the Land Development Code, the hierarchy 28 of decision-making authority for acting upon an application for a permit, map, or other matter is as follows in descending order: (a) City Council; (b) Planning Commission; (c) Hearing Officer; and (d) City Staff."

1        This section triggers entitlements to other procedures. Parks v. Watson, 716 F.2d 646,
 2 656 (9th Cir. 1983)(a property interest in a benefit protected by the due process clause results
 3 from a legitimate claim of entitlement created and defined by an independent source, such as state 4 law). As such, Plaintiff is entitled to go through processing per the Parks case. The City is 5 providing Plaintiff with its process by going through a consolidation of processing as provided by 6 SDMC §112.0103, based on the multiple applications filed related to the property and the varying 7 uses thereon.

8        The City, according to its Land Development Code, also is entitled to look at the totality
 9 of circumstances, that is, a consolidation of processing per SDMC 112.0103. Once the City 10 consolidated its process and made a new determination as to its review, there was no 11 constitutional right to a lower level of review. The issue is a level of discretion. Thus, the matter 12 is not ripe because the City has not completed its consolidated processing. Indeed, Blackwater 13 delayed the processing by bringing legal action, and the district court adjudicated too early. The 14 City could have taken and should have been permitted to take action through its normal processes 15 by now, but for having been deprived of doing so by the court.

16        Additionally, as expressly stated in SDMC § 121.0308, the issuance of any construction 17 permit does not grant a person a right to violate other laws:

18                (a) The issuance or granting of [a]...construction permit ... does not 19 constitute a permit for, or an approval of, any violation of any of the 20 provisions of the Land Development Code, including the Building, 21 Electrical, Plumbing, or Mechanical Regulations or any other ordinance of 22 the City. Development permits, construction permits, or inspections
 23 presuming to give authority to violate or cancel the provisions of the Land 24 Development Code, Building, Electrical, Plumbing, or Mechanical 25 Regulations or other ordinances of the City are not valid. [¶] (b) The issuance of a ... construction permit based on plans, specifications, and other data does not prevent the City Manager from subsequently requiring the correction of errors in the plans, specifications, and other data or the Building Official from stopping building operations that are in violation of the Land Development Code or any other applicable law.

26 SDMC §121.0308(a), (b) (emphasis added).

27        The City's Building Official oversees the issuance of building and construction permits
 28 for the City and is charged with interpreting the City's Land Development Code. SDMC

1 §129.0104(a)(4). Further, the Building Official may only approve and issue construction permits
 2 (such as the “building permits” at issue herein) that comply with the City’s Land Development
 3 Code provisions. SDMC §129.0104(a)(3). When the Building Official determines that a building
 4 does not comply with provisions of the SDMC, she has no obligation to issue the permit, 5 notwithstanding the fact that the general application made for the permit was initially thought to 6 be merely “ministerial.” SDMC 129.0111(d). The City’s Land Development Code authorizes the 7 reclassification of a project or further review. See, SDMC §§ 112.0103, 131.0620(e), 8 129.0111(d), 131.0110(a), 131.0110(c), 129.0104(a)(10), 1517.0301(c)(2), 128.0201, 9 128.0202(c), 128.0207 and 111.0201.

10 Blackwater admitted that it knew as early as February 2008 that it would be conducting 11 training within the City pursuant to a contract with the Navy. (Doc. 26-3, 11.) It was Blackwater 12 that chose to process its request for a change of use within the City’s OMDD without adequately 13 disclosing the full nature of its intended use of the Building to the City’s DSD. In fact, the Court 14 in its ruling on Plaintiff’s TRO noted the curious, piecemeal fashion in which Blackwater 15 presented its proposed “change of use” for the Building to the City:

16 “Plaintiff’s application for a TRO focuses only on Plaintiff’s ability to use 17 the ‘portions of the building identified for use as a shooting range and 18 vocational/trade school,’ which was the subject of the May 19, 2008, 19 letter from the director of the City’s Developmental Services 20 Department....” The Court duly notes that subsequent to the commencement of this action, Plaintiff filed a permit application relating to a partial replica of a ship bulkhead necessary for the training Plaintiff seeks to provide to Navy sailors....that permit application...remains pending.”

21 (Doc. 16, 7:n 2:23-27.) (Emphasis added)

22 Interestingly, the Blackwater building permit application for the Ship Bulkhead (another 23 piecemeal ministerial permit request) classified the military training hardware as an amusement
 24 park “simulator/ride” within the Building, not a full-scale ship replica for military training 25 purposes. (Ahmadi Decl, Doc. 7-3, ¶5; DeGuzman Decl., Doc. 7-5, Exh E.) Since this permit, 26 and the re-evaluation of the Building for military training purposes remains ongoing and 27 incomplete, the City Defendants respectfully submit Blackwater’s claims are not ripe and, 28 therefore, should be dismissed.

1     F.     PLAINTIFF'S THIRD AND FOURTH CLAIMS FOR RELIEF AGAINST THE 2        CITY DEFENDANTS MUST BE DISMISSED FOR FAILURE TO STATE A
 3        CLAIM FOR WHICH RELIEF MAY BE GRANTED

4           Blackwater's Third and Fourth Claims for Relief respectively allege the City Defendants
 5        violated Blackwater's federally protected procedural due process and equal protection rights
 6        under color of state law by the City's exercise of its legitimate right to exercise land use authority 7        over Blackwater's change of use proposal for the Building, thereby delaying the issuance of an 8        occupancy permit for this purpose. (Doc. 1, 20:25-28; 22:9-12). Again, the City Defendants 9        respectfully contend Plaintiff's claims are not ripe and, therefore, must be dismissed.

10           1.     Blackwater's Procedural Due Process Claim Is Without Merit.

11           Any action for damages under 42 U.S.C. §1983 is premature until the plaintiff has (1) 12        obtained a final determination from the administrative agency charged with enforcing the 13        regulation, and has (2) exhausted his state-provided remedies. Williamson, supra, 473 U.S. at 14        186-187, 194-197. While the policies underlying these two concepts often overlap, the finality 15        requirement is concerned with whether the initial decision maker has arrived at a definitive 16        position on the issue that inflicts an actual, concrete injury; the exhaustion requirement generally 17        refers to administrative and judicial procedures by which an injured party may seek review of an 18        adverse decision and obtain a remedy if the decision is found to be unlawful or otherwise
 19        inappropriate. Id. at 193. Also see, Long Beach Equities, Inc. v. County of Ventura (1991) 231 20        Cal.App.3d 1016, 1041 (allegations of deprivation of due process and equal protection pursuant 21        to title 42 U.S.C. sections 1983 and 1988 not ripe because there were no final decisions).

22           It is well settled that the essence of procedural due process is notice and a meaningful 23        opportunity to respond. Cleveland Bd. of Educ. v. Loudermill, 470 U.S. 532, 546 (1985). A 24        threshold requirement to a procedural due process claim, however, is the plaintiff's showing of a 25        liberty or property interest protected by the United States Constitution. Wedges/Ledges of Cal. v.
 26        City of Phoenix, 24 F.3d 56, 62 (9th Cir. 1994) (citing, Bd. of Regents v. Roth, 408 U.S. 564, 569 27        (1972)). To have a property interest, a person clearly must have more than an abstract need or 28        desire. Nunez v. City of L.A., 147 F.3d 867, 872 (9th Cir. 1998). A mere "unilateral expectation" 29        of a benefit or privilege is insufficient. Id. Instead, the plaintiff must have a legitimate claim of

1 entitlement to it. Id. Also see, Roth, supra, 408 U.S. at 577; Doran v. Houle, 721 F.2d 1182,
 2 1186 (9th Cir. 1983) (mere fact a person has received a government benefit in the past, even for a 3 considerable length of time, does not, without more, rise to a legitimate claim of entitlement).

4 Protected property interests are not created by the Constitution, but by “existing rules or 5 understandings that stem from an independent source such as state law-rules that secure certain 6 benefits and that support claims of entitlement to those benefits.” Thornton v. City of St. Helens, 7 425 F.3d 1158, 1164 (9th Cir. 2005)(citing, Roth, 408 U.S. at 577). A reasonable expectation of 8 entitlement is determined largely by the language of the statute and the extent to which the 9 entitlement is couched in mandatory terms. Wedges/Ledges of Cal., supra, 24 F.3d at 62. Also 10 see, Town of Castle Rock v. Gonzales, 545 U.S. 748, 760 (2005) (property interests arise only 11 when the relevant state law provisions truly make the conferral of the benefit mandatory).

12 Accordingly, before Plaintiff may assert it has a viable “property interest” worthy of due 13 process protection, the court must: (1) identify the property interest of which Blackwater asserts it 14 was deprived; (2) determine what specific law, ordinance, or other understanding upon which 15 such interest is created by and/or based; and (3) determine whether under California law, such a 16 “property interest” has really been affected. The City Defendants assert that because the City’s land 17 review process has not yet been completed, Plaintiff does not yet have a property interest worthy 18 of protection, despite all of Plaintiff’s protests to the contrary.

19 The City, as a local governmental agency, should first be permitted the full authority to 20 exercise its police power to adequately review and regulate land use within the City to protect the 21 public health, safety and welfare of its residents. Berman v. Parker, 348 U.S. 26, 32-33 (1954).
 22 A land use regulation lies within the police power of the local governmental agency if it is 23 reasonably related to the public welfare. Associated Home Builders, Inc. v. City of Livermore 24 (1976) 18 Cal.3d 582, 600-601. This police power is set forth in the California Constitution, 25 which unambiguously confers on all cities within the State the power to “make and enforce within 26 [their] limits all local police, sanitary and other ordinances and regulations not in conflict with 27 general laws.” Cal. Const. Art. XI, § 7. This has not yet occurred in this case.

28 // /

1       The use of the Building is governed by the City's planned district laws, and more
 2 specifically, the OMDD Ordinance. SDMC §§1517.0101 et. seq. The purpose of the OMDD
 3 Ordinance is "to create and promote the development of the City's largest and most significant 4 industrial area of the City, and to control the use and development of the City's center near the 5 U.S./Mexican border crossing for manufacturing, wholesaling, distribution, assembly operations, 6 and related support services." SDMC§ 1517.0101. Under the OMDD, a building permit for 7 conversion or alteration of an exiting industrial warehouse building cannot be issued until an 8 application has been submitted stating the actual intended change of use for the entire facility.
 9 SDMC§1517.0201(a)(2).

10      No where in the SDMC, or even in the OMDD, is there a provision that allows an 11 applicant to make piecemeal applications for portions of a building and, as did Blackwater, 12 thereby able to avoid a full and complete evaluation of the new use of a building as is within the 13 City's land use regulatory authority. A project may only be approved by a "Process One" 14 (ministerial approval process), where the entirety of the project is in complete compliance with 15 the sub district use designation assigned to the property by the OMDD. SDMC §1517.0202(a).
 16 This means the project must comply with §1517.0204 (Financing of Public Facilities), 17 §1517.0301(Permitted Uses), and §1517.0305 (Property Development Regulations). SDMC
 18 §1517.0202(a)(2). None of these requirements have been adequately evaluated by the City yet, 19 given the actual intended use of the building as a military training center. Again, the 20 significance of SDMC §112.0103 consolidation described above is triggered based on the 21 multiple applications filed related to the Building and the varying uses thereon.

22      Blackwater has asserted, and the Court thus far has accepted as correct, that "no permit is 23 needed to operate a vocational/trade school" within the OMDD "since such uses are permitted as 24 a matter of right." (TRO Order, Doc. 16, 7:17-18.) However, this is not a correct interpretation of 25 the applicable provisions of the OMDD. Permitted uses within the OMDD Industrial Sub-district 26 where the Building is located includes all of the industrial uses set forth in SDMC §1517.0301, as 27 well as permitted uses in the City IH-2-1 zone. See, SDMC §131.0615, Table 131-06A. The IH-2-28 1 zone does, in fact, include a brief reference to "vocational/trade" school. SDMC§131.0622,

1 Table 131-06B. However, a “trade school” as defined by the OMDD means a school “instructing
 2 in subjects related to a use permitted within the [industrial] sub district.” SDMC 3 §1517.0301(a)(8)(A).

4 It is apparent that Plaintiff claims a “property interest” that has not yet proven nor 5 foreclosed. The City through its police powers has a right to first evaluate a change of use for the 6 industrial warehouse. The change of use to a military training facility, represents a change in use 7 for which the City’s municipal laws require discretionary review. Even if the discretionary 8 review is not favorable to Blackwater, under the SDMC, Blackwater is vested with the right of 9 appeal. The City Defendants respectfully contend, the City procedures allow Blackwater a 10 meaningful opportunity to be heard. That being the case, there can be no procedural due process
 11 violation, and Blackwater’s federal claim on this ground fails. For this reason, Blackwater’s 12 federal procedural due process claim should be dismissed.

13       2.     Plaintiff’s Equal Protection Claim Also Is Without Merit.

14       The Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment commands that no State shall 15 “deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws,” which is essentially 16 a direction that all persons similarly situated should be treated alike.” City of Cleburne v.
 17 Cleburne Living Ctr., 473 U.S. 432, 439 (1985). A plaintiff can state an equal protection claim in 18 one of two ways. One way is to allege that “defendants acted with an intent or purpose to 19 discriminate against the plaintiff based upon membership in a protected class.” See, e.g., Barren 20 v. Harrington, 152 F.3d 1193, 1194-95 (9th Cir.1998) (citing, Washington v. Davis, 426 U.S.
 21 229, 239-40 (1976)). If the acts in question do not involve a suspect classification, a plaintiff can 22 alternatively establish an equal protection claim by alleging that it “has been intentionally treated 23 differently from others similarly situated and that there is no rational basis for the difference in 24 treatment.” See, e.g., Village of Willowbrook v. Olech, 528 U.S. 562, 564 (2000); Squaw Valley
 25 Dev. Co. v. Goldberg, 375 F.3d 936, 944 (9th Cir.2004).

26       Since Blackwater would not be considered part of a protected class, to succeed on an 27 equal protection claim, it must demonstrate the City’s treatment of its alleged “property right” 28 (the alleged right to have occupancy permits issued for the Building) is different in substance and

1 kind than he City's treatment of other property owners similarly situated. Stated differently, the 2 City's actions must be irrational and wholly arbitrary. See, Gamble v. City of Escondido, 104
 3 F.3d 300, 307 (9th Cir. 1997) (rational basis scrutiny also is appropriate for the plaintiff's due 4 process claim, citing, Munoz v. Sullivan, 930 F.2d 1400, 1404 n.10 (9th Cir. 1991)); Lockary v.
 5 Kayfetz, 917 F.2d 1150, 1155-56 (9th Cir. 1990) (scrutiny under equal protection analysis is 6 essentially equivalent to scrutiny under due process doctrine the rational relation test will not 7 sustain conduct by state officials that is malicious, irrational or plainly arbitrary).

8 Blackwater's federal equal protection claim is premised upon alleged disparate treatment 9 between it and Southwestern College, the latter of which purportedly operates a P.O.S.T.-certified 10 police academy in the Otay Mesa area. (Complaint, Doc. 1, ¶¶74-75.) However, the Court may 11 take judicial notice that Southwestern College is part of the state of California Community 12 College System. See, Request for Judicial Notice in Support of Defendants' Joint Motion to 13 Dismiss, filed and served concurrently herewith. As such, it is an agency of the State of 14 California and not subject to local land use regulation. Regents of University of California v. City 15 of Santa Monica (1978) 77 Cal.App.3d 130, 136 (California Constitution art. XI, §7 does not 16 authorize municipalities to apply local zoning restrictions to state agencies). Accordingly, there is 17 no legal or factual basis to support Blackwater's allegations.

18 Additionally, Blackwater claims "upon information and belief" that "the City did not 19 require other vocational institutions, including privately-run institutions, to obtain special 20 approval ... to operate as a vocational institution, such as the process being imposed on 21 Blackwater." (Complaint, Doc.1, ¶75.) However, the equal protection clause does not preclude 22 the City from treating applying entities differently. Rather is must only have a rational basis for 23 doing so. See, e.g., Heller v. Doe, 509 U.S. 312, 319-20 (1993); California Rifle & Pistol Assn. v.
 24 City of West Hollywood (1998) 66 Cal.App.4th 1302, 1327 (equal protection is not denied simply 25 because an ordinance treats one class of persons differently from another -- where there is no 26 suspect classification, and purely economic interests are involved, a municipality may impose any 27 distinction which bears some 'rational relationship' to a legitimate public purpose).

28 / / /

1 Blackwater by its own admission is a unique business entity, providing specialized 2 vocational training for members of the military, and in particular the United States Navy, which 3 over the past five years includes “training programs for sailors [that] will teach a variety of skills, 4 including marksmanship, assembly and disassembly of firearms, basic arrest and apprehension
 5 techniques, and proper safety for the latest state-of-the-art personal weaponry.” (Doc.1, ¶22.)

6 The Court also can take judicial notice that the City precludes the firing of firearms within 7 city limits. SDMC §53.10 (providing that the firing of firearms and other explosives within the 8 city limits be strictly regulated for the protection of all persons and property located in the City).
 9 (Doc. 5, 2-3.) This clearly includes the ability to regulate any manner of firearm use within city 10 limits, unless such regulation is beyond the scope of the City’s or any municipality’s authority to 11 regulate, for example when preemption applies. See, e.g., Fiscal v. City and County of San 12 Francisco (2008) 158 Cal.App.4th 895, 919 (the goal of any local authority wishing to legislate in 13 the area of gun control should be to accommodate the local interest with the least possible 14 interference with state law; however, while courts have tolerated subtle local encroachment into 15 the field of firearms regulation, laws which significantly intrude upon the state prerogative have 16 been uniformly struck down as preempted).

17 Certainly, a local land use review of the use of firearms for military training in the OMDD 18 industrial sub-district does not automatically raise an equal protection issue for which relief must 19 be granted absent more. Blackwater has alleged no facts that reflect that it has actually been 20 treated differently from another entity engaged in similar types of activities. Indeed, the fact that 21 the City has been deprived of the opportunity to inquire into such activities speaks volumes that 22 no different treatment has occurred. The City’s interest in reviewing Blackwater’s use of the 23 Building as a military training center, rather than an industrial warehouse, is rationally related to a 24 legitimate governmental interest and does not mean the City would not require any prospective 25 vocational school applicant to undertake the same steps now imposed on Blackwater to ensure 26 public safety or to determine whether the use of the Building as a military training center is 27 appropriate in the OMDD. Accordingly, Blackwater’s equal protection challenge should be 28 dismissed as it is fabricated and completely without legal merit.

1       G. PLAINTIFF'S FIFTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF FAILS TO STATE A CLAIM FOR 2       VIOLATION OF THE DORMANT COMMERCE CLAUSE

3              The dormant Commerce Clause protects against state regulations that “erect barriers 4              against interstate trade.” American Booksellers Foundation v. Dean, 342 F.3d 96, 102 (2d Cir.
 5              2003) (quoting, Lewis v. BT Inv. Managers, Inc., 447 U.S. 27, 35 (1980)). Where the Commerce
 6              Clause does apply, the level of scrutiny depends on whether the ordinance in question
 7              “discriminates” against interstate commerce. Laws that discriminate against interstate commerce 8              face a virtually per se rule of invalidity. Granholm v. Heald, 544 U.S. 460, 476 (2005). Because 9              of this rule, discriminatory statutes should be subjected to strict scrutiny and should be upheld 10             “only if the government can demonstrate both that the law serves a legitimate local purpose and 11             that this purpose could not be served as well by available nondiscriminatory means.” Maine v.
 12             Taylor, 477 U.S. 131, 138 (1986).

13              Discrimination in this context simply means differential treatment of in-state and out-of-14             state economic interests that benefits the former and burdens the latter. Oregon Waste Sys., Inc.
 15             v. Or. Dep’t of Envtl. Quality, 511 U.S. 93, 99 (1994). By contrast, laws that do not discriminate
 16             against interstate commerce face a more deferential standard, such as the so-called “Pike test,” 17             which holds that “nondiscriminatory regulations that have only incidental effects on interstate 18             commerce are valid unless ‘the burden imposed on such commerce is clearly excessive in relation 19             to the putative local benefits.’” Id. (quoting, Pike v. Bruce Church, Inc., 397 U.S. 137, 142 20             (1970)). Blackwater claims it is being treated differently as an “out of state” entity and therefore, 21             its rights under the Equal Protection and dormant Commerce Clause have been violated.

22              However, Blackwater has not been treated differently simply because the changed use of 23             the Building has come under legitimate local land use scrutiny. There is simply no basis to claim 24             the City’s OMDD land use regulations discriminate against out-of state entities, or that 25             Blackwater is being singled out for disparate treatment. Blackwater’s Dormant Commerce
 26             Clause allegations simply mirror those employed for purposes of its federal equal protection 27             claim. (Complaint, Doc.1, ¶¶84-85.) In addition, Blackwater claims that the City has imposed 28             “regulatory measures in a manner designed to benefit in-state economic interests by burdening

1 out-of-state competitors." (Doc. 1, ¶87.) Blackwater has not alleged any facts that remotely
 2 suggest that any of the City's actions have been the result of Blackwater's foreign status.

3 Indeed, all applications submitted to the City were done by local entities. Southwest Law 4 Enforcement Training Enterprises alleged to be a San Diego based company applied for two of 5 the permits. (Doc.1, ¶¶26-27.) Raven Development Group, although an affiliate of Blackwater, 6 continued to process applications describing the facility as the Southwest Law Enforcement 7 facility. (Prel. Inj. Order, Doc. 32, 3:21-28.) Accordingly, Blackwater's claim for relief for 8 violation of the Dormant Commerce Clause should be dismissed in its entirety.

9 H. THE CITY DEFENDANTS HAVE NOT VIOLATED BLACKWATER'S RIGHTS
 10 UNDER THE CALIFORNIA CONSTITUTION

11 1. The City Did Not Violate Blackwater's Procedural Due Process Rights

12 The California Supreme Court and the United States Supreme Court apply largely the 13 same analysis and have repeatedly recognized that due process is a flexible concept. See e.g., 14 Civil Service Assn. v. City and County of San Francisco (1978) 22 Cal.3d 552, 561; Gilbert v.
 15 Homar, 520 U.S. 924, 930 (1997); Morrissey v. Brewer, 408 U.S. 471, 481 (1972). The essence 16 of procedural due process is notice and an opportunity to respond. Cleveland Bd. of Educ., supra, 17 470 U.S. at 546. The United States Supreme Court also has held numerous times that where a 18 State must act quickly, or where it would be impractical to provide pre-deprivation process, post-19 deprivation process satisfies the requirements of the Due Process Clause. See, e.g., United States
 20 v. James Daniel Good Real Property, 510 U.S. 43, 53 (1993); Zinermon v. Burch, 494 U.S. 113, 21 128 (1990) (collecting cases); Barry v. Barchi, 443 U.S. 55, 64-65 (1979); Dixon v. Love, 431 22 U.S. 105, 115 (1977).

23 As the California Supreme Court stated in People v. Ramirez (1979) 25 Cal.3d 260:

24 [T]he extent to which due process [protections] will be available depends on 25 a careful and clearly articulated balancing of the interests at stake in each 26 context. In some instances this balancing may counsel formal hearing 27 procedures that include the rights of confrontation and cross-examination, as 28 well as a limited right to an attorney.... In others, due process may require only that the administrative agency comply with the statutory limitations on its authority. ... More specifically, identification of the dictates of due process generally requires consideration of (1) the private interest that will be affected by the official action, (2) the risk of an erroneous deprivation of 1 such interest through the procedures used, and the probable value, if any, of 2 additional or substitute procedural safeguards, (3) the dignitary interest in 3 informing individuals of the nature, grounds and consequences of the action 4 and in enabling them to present their side of the story before a responsible 5 governmental official, and (4) the governmental interest, including the 6 function involved and the fiscal and administrative burdens that the 7 additional or substitute procedural requirement would entail.

8       Id. at p. 269. Also see, In re Malinda S. (1990) 51 Cal.3d 368, 383; Mathews v. Eldridge, 424 9 U.S. 319, 335 (1976); Mohilef v. Janovici (1996) 51 Cal.App.4th 267, 286-287.
 10

11       Again, SDMC §112.0301 regarding consolidation of permit processing is instructive.
 12 Blackwater actually has been subject to such process no different than any other applicant. In 13 fact, Blackwater has used a strong-arm tactic to get different treatment and also preventing the 14 City from availing itself of this statutory process.

15       Thus, for the same reasons argued above against Blackwater's federal procedural due 16 process claim, the City has not violated Blackwater's procedural due process rights under the 17 California Constitution.

18       2.       The City Did Not Violate Blackwater's Equal Protection Rights

19       The California Supreme Court, like the United States Supreme Court, applies the same 20 analysis for equal protection purposes. As explained in Warden v. State Bar (1999) 21 Cal.4th 21 628, there are two principal standards or tests that generally have been applied by the courts of 22 this state and the U.S. Supreme Court in reviewing classifications that are challenged under the 23 equal protection clause of the Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution or article 24 I, section 7, of the California Constitution: the rational basis standard applied for reviewing 25 economic and social welfare legislation in which there is a "discrimination" or differentiation of 26 treatment between classes or individuals, and a strict scrutiny standard applied in cases involving 27 "suspect classifications" or touching on "fundamental interests." Id. at 640-641. In the former, 28 distinctions drawn by a challenged statute must only bear some rational relationship to a conceivable legitimate state purpose. Id. Under the strict standard applied in such cases, the state bears the burden of establishing not only that it has a compelling interest which justifies the law but that the distinctions drawn by the law are necessary to further its purpose. Id.

1       The City's actions at issue in the present case does not involve suspect classifications or 2 touch upon fundamental interests and thus the applicable standard under which plaintiff's equal 3 protection challenge properly must be evaluated is the rational relationship or rational basis
 4 standard. Under the California Constitution, it is well settled that a municipality may divide land 5 into districts and prescribe regulations governing the uses permitted therein, and that zoning 6 ordinances, when reasonable in object and not arbitrary in operation, constitute a justifiable 7 exercise of police power. Hernandez v. City of Hanford (2007) 41 Cal.4th 279, 296. Also see,
 8 Associated Home Builders, supra, 18 Cal.3d at 604-605; Cal. Const., art. XI, § 7; Gov.Code 9 §65800 et seq.

10       Even when the regulation of economic competition reasonably can be viewed as a direct 11 and intended effect of a zoning ordinance or action, so long as the primary purpose of the 12 ordinance or action is not the impermissible private anti-competitive goal of protecting or 13 disadvantaging a particular favored or disfavored business or individual, but instead is the 14 advancement of a legitimate public purpose-such as the preservation of a municipality's 15 downtown business district for the benefit of the municipality as a whole, the ordinance 16 reasonably relates to the general welfare of the municipality and constitutes a legitimate exercise 17 of the municipality's police power. Hernandez, supra, 41 Cal.4th at 296-297. Moreover, the 18 California equal protection clause does not preclude a governmental entity from adopting a 19 legislative measure that is aimed at achieving multiple objectives, even when such objectives in 20 some respects may be in tension or conflict. Id. at 298. Also see, Fitzgerald v. Racing Assn. of Central Iowa, 539 U.S. 103, 109 (2003) (legislation often is the product of multiple and 21 somewhat inconsistent purposes that led to certain compromises).

22       In Hernandez, the California Supreme Court concluded that an ordinance's differential 23 treatment of large department stores and other retail stores is rationally related to one of the 24 legitimate legislative purposes of the ordinance -- the purpose of attracting and retaining large 25 department stores within a certain district. The Hernandez Court noted that the ordinance 26 challenged clearly was intended to serve multiple purposes and also rejected the claim that the 27 city arbitrarily singled them out for discriminatory treatment. Local governments need the 28

1 flexibility to react to specific proposals for a new kind of development not previously 2 contemplated where such a development will or may have harmful consequences to the locality's 3 legitimate planning objectives. Hernandez, supra, 41 Cal.4th at 302, n.13.

4 Blackwater has not stated a cause of action for a violation of equal protection under the 5 California Constitution. As argued above, Southwestern College is not subject to local land use
 6 requirements. With respect to other similar and possibly private institutions, Blackwater's
 7 allegations are insufficient to plead any disparate actions. Moreover, Blackwater cannot place
 8 itself by its own admission in the same category as other general businesses. The California 9 Constitution requires no more than the Federal Constitution – it is not disparate treatment in and 10 of itself that is unconstitutional, but that the City has not acted on a rational basis. California
 11 Rifle & Pistol Assn., supra, 66 Cal.App.4th at 1327. There are insufficient facts to remotely 12 suggest that the City has not acted on a rational basis given the process. Accordingly, 13 Blackwater's state equal protection claim also should be dismissed.

14 I. BLACKWATER DID NOT COMPLY WITH FILING REQUIREMENTS OF THE CALIFORNIA GOVERNMENT CLAIMS ACT

16 As indicated above, this action involves a land use matter that should be left considered 17 and resolved at the local level. To succeed on any claim for money damages against public entity 18 or a public employee in the State of California on the basis of acts or omissions in the scope of 19 their official duties, a party must plead and prove that they have timely filed a claim with the 20 public entity employer pursuant to the California Government Claims Act ("Claims Act").
 21 Failure to allege specific compliance with the requirements of the Claims Act is an affirmative 22 defense for the public entity and its employees and renders any such claim subject to dismissal as 23 a matter of law. Briggs v. Lawrence (1991) 230 Cal.App.3d 605.

24 The Claims Act provides that no suit for money or damages may be maintained against a 25 California public entity unless a formal claim has been presented to, and rejected by the public 26 entity. Cal.Gov. Code §§ 910, 912.4, 912.8, 945.4. If the public entity gives proper notice of 27 rejection, the suit must be commenced within six months after delivery or mailing of the notice of 28 rejection. Cal. Gov. Code §945.6(a)(1). City of Stockton v. Superior Court (2007) 42 Cal.4th 730,

1 737-738. A breach of contract claim also must be presented to the public entity within one year
 2 of accrual of the cause of action. Id.; Gov. Code § 911.2. Also see, Westcon Construction Corp.
 3 v. County of Sacramento (2007) 152 Cal.App.4th 183, 190.

4 Thus, under these statutes, failure to timely present a claim for money or damages to a 5 public entity bars a plaintiff from filing a lawsuit against that entity. State of California v.
 6 Superior Court (Bodde) (2004) 32 Cal.4th 1234, 1239. This applies both to suits against the 7 public entity and to suits against the public employees whose acts are the subject of the claim 8 involved. Massa v. Southern Cal. Rapid Transit Dist. (1996) 43 Cal.App.4th 1217, 1222. The 9 timely filing of a claim under the Claims Act is an essential element of a claim for relief against 10 the City and its employees under California law. Wood v. Riverside General Hospital (1994) 25 11 Cal.App.4th 1113.

12 As a matter of California law, therefore, Blackwater is barred from maintaining any action
 13 against the public entity defendants in this matter. Miller v. United Airlines, Inc. (1985) 174 14 Cal.App. 3d 878, 890.

15 V. CONCLUSION

16 For all of the foregoing reasons, the City Defendants respectfully submit the entirety of 17 Plaintiff's complaint, and each Claim for Relief therein, should be dismissed for failure to state a 18 viable claim for which relief can be granted.

19 Respectfully submitted,

I. INTRODUCTION

2 Defendants City of San Diego (“CITY”), the City’s Development Services Department
3 (“DSD”), Kelly Broughton (“BROUGHTON”) and Afsaneh Ahmadi (“AHMADI”) (collectively 4 “City Defendants”), in support of their joint motion to dismiss pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil 5 Procedure (“FRCP”) Rule 12(b)(6) in the above-captioned matter, hereby request pursuant to 6 Rule 201 of the Federal Rules of Evidence (“FRE”) that the Court to take judicial notice of the 7 items more particularly described below.

II. REQUESTS FOR JUDICIAL NOTICE

9 A court must take judicial notice if a party requests it and supplies the court with the 10 requisite information. FRE 201(d). “A judicially noticed fact must be one not subject to 11 reasonable dispute in that it is either (1) generally known within the territorial jurisdiction of the 12 trial court or (2) capable of accurate and ready determination by resort to sources whose accuracy
13 cannot reasonably be questioned.” FRE 201(b). Furthermore, this Court may take judicial notice 14 of its own records, and documents that are public records and capable of accurate and ready 15 confirmation by sources that cannot reasonably be questioned. See, MGIC Indem. Corp. v.
16 Weisman, 803 F.2d 500, 504 (9th Cir.1986) (courts may take judicial notice of matters of public
17 record outside the pleadings); United States v. Wilson, 631 F.2d 118, 119 (9th Cir.1980) (a court 18 may take judicial notice of its own records). Documents whose contents are alleged in a 19 complaint and whose authenticity is not in question may be considered in a motion to dismiss.
20 See, Branch v. Tunnell, 14 F.3d 449, 453-54 (9th Cir. 1994).

21 A. Judicial Notice of State Court Community College District

22 In this category, the City Defendants attach as Exhibit A a web page indicating that 23 Southwestern College, located at 900 Otay Lakes Road, in Chula Vista, California, 91910-7299, 24 is a part of the State of California Community College System. Pursuant to FRE 201, these items 25 are capable of accurate and ready determination by resort to sources whose accuracy cannot 26 reasonably be questioned. The web page address is under the State of California general link and

3 The general web page states as follows:

4 The California Community Colleges is the largest higher educational 5 system in the nation comprised of 72 districts and 109 colleges with more 6 than 2.5 million students per year. Community colleges supply workforce 7 training and basic skills education, prepare students for transfer to four-8 year institutions and offer opportunities for personal enrichment and Community Colleges.

9 This information tends to indicate that Southwestern College is a state agency and as such 10 not subject to local land use regulation. Regents of University of California v. City of Santa 11 Monica (1978) 77 Cal.App.3d 130, 136 (California Constitution art. XI, §7 does not authorize

I, Afsaneh Ahmadi, declare as follows:

1. I am employed as the Chief Building Official for the City of San Diego's Developmental Services Department ("DSD").

2. I make this declaration based upon my own personal knowledge, except as to those matters set forth in this declaration on information and belief, and as to those

1 matters, I believe them to be true. If called upon to testify as to those matters stated in this 2 declaration, I could and would competently testify to those matters.

3       3. On information and belief, a true and correct copy of Plaintiff's application to use 4 a simulator is already on file with this Court (project # 157613). It can be found at Exhibit E to 5 the declaration of Julio DeGuzman in response to the Court's order to show cause in this case.
6 (Doc. #21-6).

7       4. Attached at Exhibit A is a true and correct copy of the first review comments of 8 DSD reviewer Will Kwan for this project. As the review indicates, two issues were initially 9 identified and resolved.

5. Attached at Exhibit B is a true and correct copy of the comments of DSD reviewer
David Glanville for this project. Mr. Glanville completed his review of this project on June 3, 2008. As the review indicates, 55 unresolved issues have been identified.

13       6. Attached at Exhibit C is a true and correct copy of the comments of DSD reviewer 14 Mike Benoit for this project. Mr. Benoit completed his review of this project on June 4, 2008.
15 As the review indicates, 9 unresolved issues have been identified.

16        7. Under DSD's normal review process, DSD cannot issue a permit for this project 17 until all issues have been resolved with the project applicant. DSD's staff is still waiting for the 18 Plaintiff to respond to the pending 64 issues in question.

19 I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States that the foregoing is 20 true and correct.

21 Executed on 23rd day of June, 2008 at San Diego, California.

25 Defendants KELLY BROUGHTON, THE DEVELOPMENTAL SERVICES 26 DEPARTMENT OF THE CITY OF SAN DIEGO, AFSANEH AHMADI, and THE CITY OF 27 SAN DIEGO (collectively “City Defendants”), by and through the undersigned counsel, Deputy 28 City Attorney George F. Schaefer, request leave of this Court to file a memorandum of points and

1 authorities in support of the Defendants' motion to dismiss the Plaintiff's Complaint that exceeds 2 the page limits by 2 pages. The following grounds support this motion:

3       1. On May 23, 2008 Plaintiff Blackwater filed a Complaint in this case for the 4 following: 1) injunctive relief; 2) declaratory judgment; 3) violation of 42 U.S.C. § 1983
 5 (procedural due process); 4) violation of 42 U.S.C. § 1983 (substantive due process); 5) dormant
 6 Commerce Clause; 6) violation of Cal. Const., Art. I, § 7(A) (procedural due process); and 6) 7 violation of Cal. Const., Art. I, § 7(A) (equal protection).

8       2. Defendants have filed a motion to dismiss this Complaint that is 27 pages. Under 9 the local rules, this exceeds the maximum 25-page limit by 2 pages.

10      3. Good cause exists to allow the Defendants' memorandum to exceed the page limit 11 because of the number of legal claims, number of defendants, and complexity of the issues 12 briefed which include, among other topics, the following: 1) ripeness of the Plaintiff's claims; 2) 13 Pullman abstention; 3) Younger abstention; 4) Plaintiff's failure to state federal and state law 14 claims; and 5) the Plaintiff's failure to comply with the California Government Claims Act.
